

Good morning, Chair Abrams, Vice Chair Miller, and Ranking Member Thomas.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide proponent testimony on House Bill 82.

My name is Christina Greenwood, and I'm the mother of Jordan Thomas, who was a dedicated member of Laborers Local 423 and employed at Kokosing Construction Inc. since 2023. On February 28, 2026, Jordan was tragically killed while working in his work zone at 2:14 am. Jordan was only 25 years old. He was filled with light, energy, and ambition. Unfortunately, Jordan is now included in national work zone fatalities, but I am here today to be his voice.

Work zone safety and regulations play a key role in maintaining and upgrading our Nation's roadways. In 2024, 850 people were killed in work zones, a decrease from 905 people killed in 2023, according to an FHWA report. However, even with that decline, on average, at least two people are killed in work zones every day, according to NHTSA data.

While the recent decline in work zone crashes is encouraging, more than 100,000 crashes still occur annually nationwide. (Retrieved American Traffic Safety Services Association, 2026 www.atssa.com). Work zones are essential for updating the vast, growing infrastructure, but without protective measures and priority for safety, these brave men and women are at risk every single day. The role that everyone plays in protecting roadway workers needs to happen now before more lives like Jordan's are lost.

The hole that Jordan's death has created in our family will never be filled, but protecting the lives that grow around it is my call to action and reason for being here today. I plead that my advocacy doesn't fall on deaf ears, and you are moved to increase the safety and accountability in worker construction zones to ensure all of Jordan's fellow brothers and sisters make it home to their families because Jordan did not.

Thank you again for the opportunity to provide support for HB 82, and I would be happy to answer any questions.
